Define Problem Statements (Customer Problem Statement Template):

Travel planning can be overwhelming and time-consuming for many people. Travelers often struggle to find reliable and organized information about destinations, accommodations, food options, and activities. The lack of personalized guidance and the need to search across multiple platforms make it difficult to create a well-structured travel plan that fits their interests, budget, and schedule. This leads to confusion, stress, and inefficient planning. To improve the travel experience, there is a need for an AI-based solution that can generate customized travel itineraries quickly and efficiently, helping users plan trips with ease and confidence.

Problem Statement (PS)	I am (Traveller)	I'm trying to	But	Because	Which makes me feel
PS-1	A traveler planning a vacation	Create a complete and personalized travel itinerary	I don't know the best places, hotels, food spots, and travel routes	Travel information is scattered across many websites and not tailored to my interests, budget, and time	Overwhelmed, confused and stressed while planning my trip
